Foreword

The 1960 OLD GOLD is an attempt to tell a story . . . a story in pictures of how we studied . . . how we worked . . . and how we played at Iowa State Teachers College . . . our college.

Our college . . . here we first encountered the terrifying orientation . . . here we found just what it means to study and still flunk that most important test . . . here we made those lasting friendships over a cup of coffee on the Hill . . . here we spent those many hours taking notes in class . . . here we passed equally as many hours in the library reading reserve books . . . here we first learned of the unexplainable excitement that comes with teaching. Yes, student teaching and then graduation . . . the climax of four, all too short, years.

May this . . . the story of our year at TC . . . build the bridge of memories into the future.

Academic Life

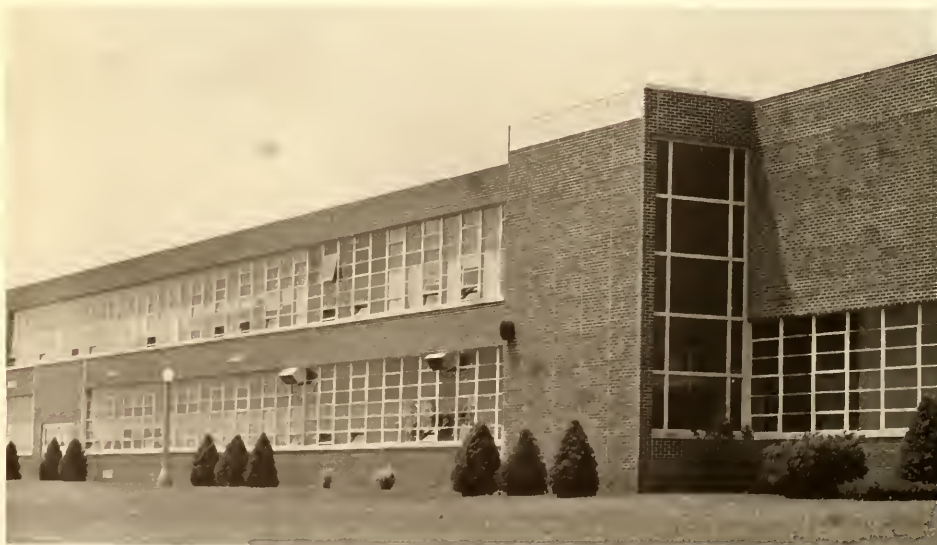

... buildings of brick and mortar ...

What is college? The core of it centers around a group of brick buildings . . . here the very essence of it can be found. As the Campanile rings its melodious message, rain or shine, students hurry to their classes. These are the buildings of brick and mortar . . . but within each one can be found the reality of college.

In the clear light of the library stands the knowledge of generations awaiting renewed discovery. Here students . . .

... the reality of college ...

... anxiously scan the stacks.

... concentrate at tables.

... concentrate at long reading tables . . . others anxiously scan the stacks trying to find the answer to their questions . . . others hunt for a secluded spot to study hurriedly for tomorrow's test.

... stands the knowledge of generations.

... nature under a microscope ...

... art of homemaking

... the ability to create

At first classrooms appear drab and colorless . . . but soon they live with the spirit of the Renaissance, the psychology of children, the wonders of nature under a microscope, the miracles of electronics, the art of home-making.

In the cluster of buildings stands the Aud . . . here students meet in the crossroads . . . look for a ride posted on the bulletin board . . . buy a ticket to one of the numerous plays. The Aud is the center of activity . . . its worn brown steps and between class confusion become a part of the normal routine.

. . . spirit of the Renaissance

. . . the center of activity . . .

... distinguished diplomats ...

... questions ...

ACCIA

Suddenly, from the seclusion of the college campus, interest is transported to the turmoil and excitement of the Far East. The third annual All College Conference on International Affairs has arrived with its distinguished diplomats, bustling reporters, and interested students. The spotlight is on "China and the Future of Asia" and the representatives of China, Russia, United States, India, and Japan as they present their views and stands.

... bustling reporters ...

... informal discussions ...

Attention is focused on this Mid-western campus as carefully prepared speeches are given by the delegates and duly recorded by the press.

Students actively participated in this newsworthy occasion . . . coffee hours . . . informal discussions . . . question and answer sessions . . . special dinners . . . all add to the significance of the Conference.

Not to be forgotten . . . the absence of the Russian delegate who refused a last minute favor.

... special dinners ...

The delegates leave . . .

A spirit of friendliness . . .

Although no problems are resolved or international questions answered, information is traded and, for a while, a spirit of friendliness prevails. The purpose of the conference has been fulfilled. As the last of the delegates leaves, students know that they have had a glimpse of the complexity of today's modern world, and plans are begun for next year's ACCIA.

Patient fathers . . .

ORIENTATION

Then it begins . . . a new world is entered. From the first glimpse of the sprawling, stolid dorm to the last good-byes shouted to departing families, the first day's frantic activity continues for the freshmen. Patient fathers cart suitcases, crinolines, teddy bears, and radios up and down stairs . . . mothers anxiously scan the small rooms wondering where to put it all . . . harried counselors guide new faces through the complex myriad of identical hallways and countless rooms . . . and sons and daughters wonder what new experiences, happy and sad, this room will hold for the coming year.

Bartlett Hall . . . new experiences

Endless tests are taken . . .

Bewildered and dazed, freshmen sit in the large gym and work their way through seemingly endless tests. Heads are bent as small black marks are scratched on white sheets of paper. Then it is over and everything else is forgotten as the newness of the campus is explored . . . soon to become familiar, but now impressive in its total strangeness.

Black marks are scratched . . .

The campus is explored . . .

New talent is discovered . . .

Always welcome hot dogs . . .

The world of fun is discovered, too, as the always welcome hot dogs and beans are handed out at the annual Freshman Picnic. By watermelon time the bermuda-clad newcomers have formed many new friendships. New talent is revealed at the New-comer's Variety Show . . . songs and dances . . . imitations and jokes . . . each act contributes to the entertainment.

The world of fun is discovered . . .

World of classes resumes . . .

CLASSES RESUME

As the world of classes opens up and the hard, new binders of books are forced back, a new routine establishes itself. The smooth groove in the Auditorium steps is made just a little deeper as hundreds of feet trudge up and down on their way to a new year of classes. Between classes, familiar faces are spotted and everything halts as important confidences and secrets are exchanged.

Between classes . . .

A new routine establishes itself . . .

Simplicity of the Youth Collection . . .

Everyone resolves to study, study, study Instructors hand out their course plans to worried students Term papers are assigned and forgotten . . . until the deadline week. The library is filled with concentrating students absorbed in books . . . and in each other. The dusty majesty of the stacks, the bright simplicity of the Youth Collection, the inviting leisure of the Browsing Section . . . all play their part in the many hours spent at the library. Classes and study . . . the true purpose for being here.

Absorbed . . . in each other . . .

Campus School

PRICE LABORATORY SCHOOL

Most TC students become familiar with the long, cold walk down to campus school in the winter or the windy, brisk walk in the spring. But to the student teacher it is more than this. It is not the neat, brick building itself which is important, but the experience gained by the student teacher. In this building the student's future as a teacher will receive its final molding. Although Malcolm Price Laboratory School is only one of the schools available for student teaching, it represents the essence of this total experience. Here the first impressions . . . happy and sad . . . are gained.

STUDENT TEACHING

At last the day arrives . . . the time has come to student teach. This is what will put into practice all the theory and preparation that has been learned during the last few years. This will determine once and for all whether the vocation choice was the right one. Filled with uncertainties and dread, the new student teacher faces that long awaited first day. All eyes seem to be upon him as he begins the formalities of this new phase.

Filled with uncertainties . . .

Theory put into practice . . .

All eyes are upon him . . .

A moment of reflection . . .

That long awaited day . . .

Facing the class for the first time . . .

Advice is given . . .

New experiences

At first it seems enough just to observe and learn the children's names . . . to watch the experienced ways of the supervisor, as he so patiently and expertly manages the business of each day. Soon this is no longer satisfying . . . ideas form in the beginning teacher's mind and he becomes anxious to try them out. Pinning up bulletin boards . . . organizing a unit . . . selecting materials . . . all these become a normal part of the day. There never seems to be enough time to get everything done. Problems are not left in the schoolroom but taken home to worry and ponder over. At last, however, the student teacher is on his own . . . almost.

Trying ideas out for the first time . . .

. . . on his own . . .

A frown or smile . . . can mean everything

All becomes rapidly familiar

The frown or smile of a child can now mean the depths of despair or the heights of happiness. A wildly waving arm . . . the awkward attempt of a beginning golfer . . . the wild abandon of a tiny finger-painter . . . the looks on faces . . . indifferent, perplexed, intent, absorbed . . . the apathetic and curious . . . all these are part of the new routine which rapidly becomes familiar. Even though there is a numb tiredness at the end of the day, there is always the fresh challenge of each new morning.

Hours of preparation . . .

The looks on the faces . . . indifferent, perplexed . . .

A wildly waving arm . . .

The awkward attempt of a beginner . . .

When it is over, there is a feeling of relief . . . as well as one of belonging now. This is the beginning.

Commencement . . . the beginning

The big moment has arrived

A feeling of anticipation spreads . . .

COMMENCEMENT

Then it ends . . . this part of life is over. A feeling of anticipation spreads as preliminary business is taken care of. However, as the procession slowly files in and the actual degree is presented . . . it all seems impossible. This is the culmination of four years of study and learning . . . fun and activity. The big moment has arrived . . . and it still seems unreal. How can it really end? It cannot, of course. It is the basis for everything that is to follow and it can never be taken away. It is part of each person now . . . forever.

Antigone makes her decision

ANTIGONE

Ancient Thebes became alive before TC audiences during International Theater Week last March . . . when the Greek tragedy Antigone was presented. The story involved a noble girl, Antigone . . . played by Pris Hake . . . who knew that she must fulfill her promise to bury her brother's body even though she must go against the decree of the king, Creon . . . played by Jim Dunlavy. A series of tragic events leaves Creon alone at the end. A good translation and simplified set added to this classic performance.

TC RELAYS

A highlight of the spring sport's world is the TC Relays. Over seven hundred runners came to participate in this track carnival. Four of TC's beauties chosen by the I Club, added glamour by royally reigning over the thirty-sixth annual TC relays. Attractive Sharon Wykle of Radcliffe was chosen as queen of the event and was crowned by Dr. Daryl Pendergraft. Her court consisted of Naomi Harold of Cedar Falls, Kay Klienheksel of Waterloo, and Jean Wilson of Ottumwa.

Another attempt to break a record

Max Huffman high jumps

Eleven colleges and thirty-seven high schools sent athletes to the TC Relays. Five records were broken . . . four high school and one college. Iowa Teachers set the only college record for the day by breaking the standing two mile record which was previously set by this college.

A broad jump attempt

Mother's Day Convocation

Mother of the Day . . . Mrs. Uskallio

The traditional tapping of new members of Purple Arrow, Chimes, and Torch and Tassel began the annual Woman's Day activities on the TC campus. Joyce McLennon, AWS president, replaced Dr. Mavis Holmes as Associate Dean of Students for the day. Other women students took over positions as director and assistant director of the women's dorms. Another tribute to women was Mother's Day. Mrs. Aruo Uskallio was chosen as Mother of the Day on the basis of Pauline's achievements. She was presented at the Mother's Day Convocation.

Aristocratic Caesar at the height of his glory

The slain Caesar

JULIUS CAESAR

Varied action moving rapidly from scene to scene . . . brutal assassination, mob violence, individual tenderness, and gory battle . . . all were contained in the spring presentation of the Department of Languages, Speech and Literature. This presentation, Shakespeare's Julius Caesar transported the TC audiences back to the splendor of ancient Rome. Bill Becvar as the aristocratic Caesar and Bob Helland as Brutus headed a huge cast. Setting, technical effect, lighting, and sound all added a great deal to this "DeMille type" spectacular.

A long cooling bike ride breaks the monotony

Studying becomes more enjoyable

SUMMER

The streets were empty, the dorms quiet, and everyone was recuperating from the finals . . . but not for long. Once again the summer session was underway . . . lighter class loads, fewer students, and hot sticky days. Sitting in the shade of a tall tree makes studying much more enjoyable than a hot airless room. Then there are trips to the Hill, sunbathing, and what could be more relaxing than a long cooling bike ride on a hot afternoon.

The Potting Shed — a study in the pleasure rather than the morality of religion.

A fascinating study in dramatic art.

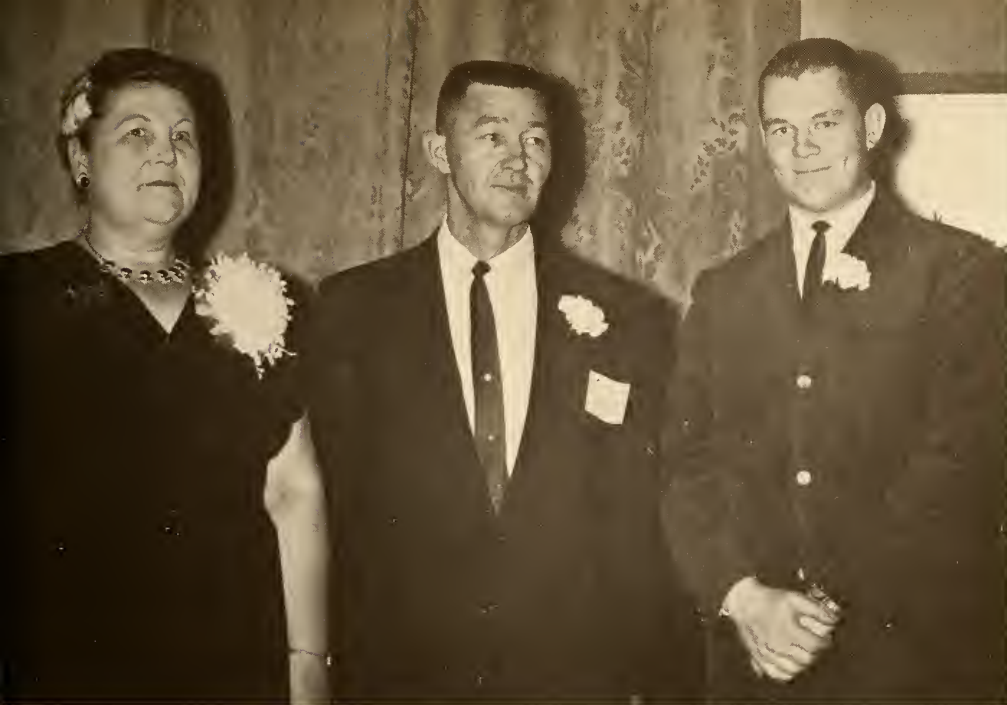

POTTING SHED SUMMER PLAY

The Potting Shed was presented last summer by the Department of Languages, Speech and Literature. The story deals with a clash between atheism and religion, and it has many elements of the first-rate detective story. The cast included many graduate students. Bob Helland appeared as the central figure . . . a newspaper man who cannot remember his youth. Winifred Hart, a former faculty member played the role of his mother. In The Potting Shed, Graham Green, the author, has made a synthesis of his ability in telling a suspenseful, witty story and his ability to probe deep religious themes.

Autumn with all its radiant colors ushered in many and varied activities for TC students.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Sullivan and their son, John

Walter L. Sullivan — Dad of the Day

WALTER SULLIVAN DAD OF THE DAY

"Hi, Dad . . . This is your day!" was the word for fathers on the annual Dad's Day at TC. Dormitories held open house and special dinners were given in honor of Dads. Mr. Walter L. Sullivan, father of John L. Sullivan, was chosen by the Dad's Committee on the basis of John's achievements at TC. John is a senior majoring in physical education with minors in biology and mathematics. He is active in student government and vice-president of Men's Union. John was one of the captains of the football team and a member of the I Club . . . He has been nominated to the Hall of Recognition the past two years.

Queen Shirley Petersen

SHIRLEY PETERSEN HOMECOMING QUEEN

A proud peacock, the real McCoys, and other gaily decorated floats . . . a briskly marching band, all proclaimed a Teacher's Victory Spectacular in the "best-ever" parade . . . the brightness of the smile of Queen Shirley Petersen warmed the cold spectators at the Homecoming Game with North Dakota University. Her sparkling court . . . Mary Kaye Stringer, from Menlo, Shirley Radeke from Davenport, Mary Paulk from Harlan, and Jo Noble from Brooklyn . . . brightened the sky.

Shirley Radeke, Jo Noble, Queen Shirley, Mary Paulk, and Mary Stringer reigned over the 1959 Homecoming festivities.

The Bartlett girls and their idea of a football game

"Go! Go! Touchdown!" were the cries of the excited students and alums as the TC Panthers made it a perfect Homecoming with a 14-9 win over North Dakota U . . . music to dream and dance to, provided by Jules Herman and his band at the Homecoming Dance . . . the perfect end . . . the cold wind that ushered in Homecoming 1959 . . . skip day which was spent in a frantic flurry of last minute preparations . . . the special features that were also initiated . . . girls' football provided by two teams of Bartlett beauties.

The coach . . . a vital part of any game

The pep rally, the romantic music of the Inter-Fraternity sing, the variety show that really had variety, twenty acts of it, the homecoming parade which was wind-blown, but impressive . . . the beautiful Queen Shirley and her court. Yes, it was a TV Spectacular. And there is so much more to Homecoming . . . the friendly greetings and long chats with old friends. Problems like trying to fit a float through a doorway that is too small . . . And the TC Spirit . . . Give me a "P" . . . Give me an "A" . . . the dorm decorations . . . all gay reminders of a unified spirit pervading the campus. To freshmen it is a new and exciting experience, to seniors it is the first of many "last times." But they will be back.

MORNING'S AT SEVEN

Members of the Morning's at Seven cast aged rapidly for the Homecoming Play. The youngest character in this delightful drama was middle-aged. The amusing adventure by Paul Osborne took place in two back yards . . . It involves the complication of family relationships . . . An old maid living with her sister's family . . . another brother who has spells, and his son who is undecided about marriage . . . finally another sister leaves her husband. As the plot progresses, their problems are solved in a "true to life" manner.

KATHARINE CORNELL IN "DEAR LIAR"

The TC audience was held spellbound by Katharine Cornell and Brian Aherne as they presented a new comedy, Dear Liar, during its pre-Broadway run. This comic love affair, based on correspondence between George Bernard Shaw and the famous Irish actress, Mrs. Patrick Campbell was the first selection of this season's Lecture-Concert series. The presentation featured no set, costumes, or make-up . . . which allows the imagination to portray aging characters since the letters cover a forty-year period. Miss Cornell and Mr. Aherne gave an outstanding performance.

MATRICULATION CONVOCATION

"There is more to a college education than the credits, the diploma, or the certificate . . . President Maucker in his address at the 1959 annual Matriculation Convocation, said that students must do their share in preparing to assume major roles in the national public school system. The college is attempting to raise its own standards in the effort to strengthen the American school system. This is being done in three ways . . . tightening admission standards within the present policy, helping superior students to advance more rapidly, and improving the faculty itself.

DON GOLD EMCEED DIJ #11

One of the highlights during the year at TC is Dimensions in Jazz, and hardly a jazz fan missed the swinging sounds of DIJ No. 11. Don Gold, assistant jazz editor and jazz promotion director of Playboy, was the emcee. Original compositions such as . . . Leonard Feather's "Prancer," Dick Scott's "It Goes Like So," and Chuck Mandernach's "Blue, Like Blue" . . . were bright spots. Donna Musgrove, Jerry Christensen, and the Phi Mu Quartet were also featured. Dimensions in Jazz is sponsored by the Beta Nu Chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity.

CHILDREN'S THEATER – "LAND OF THE DRAGON"

Audiences were enchanted by the Children's Theater play, Land of the Dragon. The delightful story was told as an ancient legend and presented in the style of the Chinese presentation theater . . . as in the tradition of the Chinese theater, property men, invisible to the audience, carried props suggesting the real object on and off stage as was needed. The story involves the adventures of a princess, her hero, and his lovable dragon.

THE MOST HAPPY FELLA

The Most Happy Fella . . . a two year Broadway hit was brought to the TC stage by the Lecture Concert series. This sparkling musical had no less than thirty-five songs . . . "Standing on the Corner Watchin' All the Girls Go By," "Big D," and "Joey" . . . were a few of the most popular. Richard Wentworth and Carolyn Maye starred in this delightful musical comedy. A full house witnessed a successful production.

CHRISTMAS '59

Crisp coldness, sparkling colored lights, the scent of pine in the dorms . . . this was our TC Christmas. We left joyfully Friday noon, wishing one another "Merry Christmas!" . . . anxious to be home, to sleep, to eat, to loaf! But as we journeyed homeward we had warm memories . . . the stirring music of Handel's "The Messiah" so ably performed still rang in our ears, and the harmony of carolers joining their voices with the world's in adoration and merriment. The Christmas parties . . . the decorated trees in the dorm, Christmas shopping, the calendar with the dates carefully crossed off, the gaily wrapped gifts . . . all this was part of our Christmas.

The gym was crowded . . .

Time out for punch and a chat

We treasured the special memories of our '59 TC Christmas. The beauty and excitement of the Christmas Dance . . . soft music, mistletoe, and the joy of being together all led to a wonderful evening experienced by all. The traditional tree, tall and stately pointed toward the heavens and the bright star atop the campanile. President Maucker lighted the traditional tree which symbolized the official beginning of Christmas festivities. We sang the traditional hymns with frosty breath and chilled fingers and toes. The laughter and gay talking with friends at the Chocolate Hour held after the Tree-Lighting Ceremony increased our spirits for another wonderful TC Christmas. For the freshman it was a new look at Christmas, for the sophomore and junior it was another link in Christmas activities and for the senior . . . a last TC Christmas.

AMRH . . . BEAUTY AND TALENT

AMRH emphasized two aspects of the TC campus —beauty and talent. Each of the eleven houses selected their beauty and talent representative. Mary Eleanor Paulk, Kirkwood House, was crowned Miss AMRH. Queen Mary was considered by judges Dean Holmes, Corrine Shimel, Eric Farley and Dick Burns to have the queenly attributes of personality, poise and beauty. The beauteous finalists were Jo Ann Tekippe, Judy Larson, Joyce Schutter, Vicky Jacob, Sharon Wykle, Judy Nelson, Kay Hampel, Susan James, Shirley Petersen and Patricia Thompson. AMRH, beauty and talent, another 1959 TC memory.

The First Annual Conference on Religion in the planning stage

"JESUS CHRIST?" . . . FIRST ANNUAL CONFERENCE ON RELIGION

"Jesus Christ?" was the theme of the First Annual Conference on Religion. Dr. Loomer was the featured speaker. Dr. Loomer's two inspiring speeches set ideas buzzing in the dorms, and caused students to question themselves. Some questions were answered; for others, new and probing questions were raised. The stimulating conversation at the coffee hours after the convocations and the sessions in the dorm rooms after the formal buzz sessions were often the most fruitful. Students with furrowed brows asked themselves the deep question of what does Christ mean to our Christian faith? Instead of the usual week-long discussion of different faiths, this year a basic concept of religion as a whole was emphasized. "Jesus Christ: God or Man," and "Jesus Christ As a Suffering Servant" were Dr. Loomer's probing questions which lead to a deeper and more mature faith. The inspiration gained by new ideas, a deeper faith, the knowledge that others also are searching for a meaning and an answer were the rewards of the conference.

Dr. Loomer opened the Conference in the Auditorium

Dr. Josef Fox led one of the many discussion groups in Seerley Baker

"After we've stolen for you . . . this."

"THE OLD MAID AND THE THIEF" AND "PAGLIOCCI" PRESENTED

A light-hearted comedy, "The Old Maid and the Thief," by Gian-Carlo Menotti, and a tragedy, "Pagliocci," by Ruggiero Leincavullo, were the two operas given by the ISTC music department. "The Old Maid" is a contemporary comedy centered about two old maids who gave aid to a tramp. The tragedy deals with a love affair and murder. A few problems encountered were the attempt of TC'ers to become Italian villagers, and a search for a talented donkey with a cart. A superb performance by the cast gave TC students a delightful evening of music, acting, comedy and drama.

"You can't leave now!"

BEAUTY, POPULARITY, SALES HIGHLIGHTED OLD GOLD WEEK

The week of February second to fifth found the OLD GOLD office a veritable beehive of activity. A committee headed by Roger Meeker and Shirley Heisler planned both of the beauty pageants and the OLD GOLD Beauty Dance. Planning the Popularity Contest was the job of Betty Heisler. The sales campaign, headed by the OLD GOLD Business Manager, Marla Putzier, and her assistant, Ruth Otterbein, climaxed the 1960 OLD GOLD sales. To promote sales and publicize the events of the week, the OLD GOLD staff printed a bulletin and sent it to the entire student body. In addition to this, the staff built a rainbow display for the Crossroads. Salesmen were at this display every hour during OLD GOLD Week; they finished the week's sales with a door-to-door canvas in the dormitories.

ANNUAL OLD GOLD BEAUTY PAGEANT

Once again TC's beauty was on parade at the annual Old Gold Beauty Pageant. At the preliminary contest, eighteen women were chosen by a panel of judges on the basis of beauty and poise to be finalists in the pageant. They were Mary Kay Sergeant, Gwen Hennon, Joan Brown, Barbara Snyder, Mary Eleanor Paulk, Susie James, Judy Schmit, Pat Maulauf, Vicki Miller, Shirley Tempo, Shirley Radeke, Marcia Bottorff, JoAnn Monroe, Shirley Donaldson, Carol Lester, Mary Hodgson, Jo Noble, and Kay Courvoisier. Finally the big night for the TC beauties arrived. Attractive Shirley Radeke was chosen Old Gold Beauty Queen.

In an all-campus election held during OLD GOLD Week at the Crossroads, the four most popular people on TC's campus were chosen. Ann Hawn, Carol Lester, Greg Bice, and Fred Cachola were proclaimed as campus favorites.

RELAYS, BEARDS, AND DANCE HIGHLIGHT MU DAY

Relays, games, beards, a dance featuring the Bernie Plumber Combo . . . all were included in Men's Union Day. Comical games with an equally comical trophy were the highlights of the morning. In the afternoon TC men displayed the results of months of patience, the most gallant try, the most unique style, the best groomed, the most colorful . . . nothing was overlooked. Stone House and a Bartlett corridor won the traveling trophy. The dance climaxed a delightful and amusing day. All these added up to a vote of confidence for Men's Union Day.

Spring . . . the campus is once more a vibrant green. Another year is almost over . . . we pause to take a look at our rain-drenched campus and are thankful that we have completed a successful year at TC.

Administration

DR. J. W. MAUCKER
President

To ISTC Students:

The key concepts for which 1959-60 is likely to be remembered by faculty members are: Standards and Directions. Students may recall longer assignments, more time in the library, more rigorous examinations.

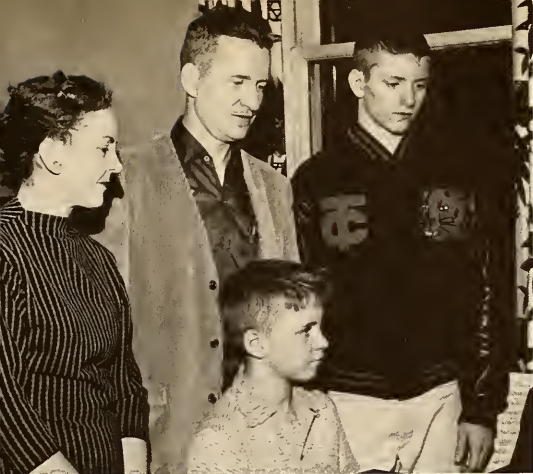

I certainly hope that in 1959-60 we have all developed a growing conviction that:

1. Standards of accomplishment in our schools and colleges must be raised at all levels and in all subject fields.
2. Students must take increasing responsibility for their own education.
3. The profession of teaching offers tremendous opportunities for self-development and significant service.

May each of you become, in the fullest sense, a student and a teacher.

Sincerely yours,

J. W. Maucker,

LANG REPLACES NELSON AS DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

Dr. William C. Lang, Dean of Instruction and Dean of the College, has the responsibility for the instructional program and the personnel of the college. There are four divisions which include Instruction and Research, Student Personnel, Field Services, and Business and Plant. Many faculty and instructional affairs are acted upon by the Faculty Senate, a representative body elected by the faculty. Dean Lang has been instructed by the faculty to maintain a continuing evaluation of the instructional program of the college and faculty evaluation of student programs. As Dean of the College, it is his responsibility to assist in the selection of college personnel and to serve as president-pro-tempore in the absence of the President. He may also perform such other duties as may be delegated to him by the President.

BUSINESS OFFICE PHYSICAL PLANT

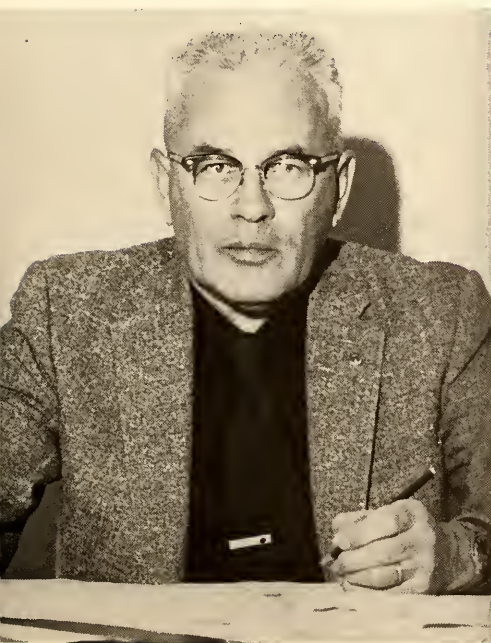

The responsibility for the Business Office and Physical Plant of ISTC centers with the Business Manager, Mr. Jennings. Included under the direction of the Business Office are the service departments of laundry, mimeograph, and telephone. In addition, the Business Office handles the Administration of clerical personnel. The Physical Plant is responsible for the physical operation of the college.

DR. PAUL KELSO
Coordinator of Student Counseling

The building of a new men's residence hall and the expansion of the Commons . . . were the projects stressed by the Student Personnel Office. The office is directed by Dr. Paul F. Bender, Dean of Students, and Dr. Mavis L. Holmes, Associate Dean of Students. Dr. Holmes has charge of the social and intellectual growth of the women students. Under the direction of the Office of Student Personnel are religious activities, counseling, Commons Social Program, Food Service, and Health Service. Dr. Harold E. Bernhard, Director of Religious Activities, has charge of the Student Council of Religious Activities . . . Student Counseling, under the supervision of Dr. Paul C. Kelso, Co-ordinator of the division, provides lines of communication which enable ISTC students to receive assistance in analyzing and solving their problems. Mrs. Ethel Winier is Director of the Commons Social Program.

COMMONS PLANS NEW ADDITION

MISS MARGARET FITZGERALD
Director of Food Service

. . . The Food Service, under the supervision of Miss Margaret Fitzgerald, provides daily meals in the Commons and in Campbell Hall. Both dining halls also cater to student and faculty organization events, and the Commons provides food for special events held on campus. Between 175 and 200 students maintain part time jobs in addition to the full time employees . . . One of the new and larger additions in the new Union will be the new Fountain Room, accommodating students with snacks between and after classes.

HEALTH SERVICE PROVIDES MEDICAL ADVICE AND SERVICE

. . . The Student Health Service, directed by Dr. V. D. French, provides medical advice and treatment to students. Dr. S. C. Henn, assisting physician, is part of a well-qualified staff on duty between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday . . . Emergency service is available twenty-four hours daily. The College Hospital, also operated by the Health Service, is staffed with registered nurses. No specific hospital charge is made for the first seven days of hospitalization in any semester. Health records of all ISTC students are kept on file at the Health Center.

NEWS SERVICE PROVIDED BY COLLEGE RELATIONS

The Office of College Relations is under the direction of Mr. George Holmes . . . Providing consultation in public relations problems and the operation of a news and publication service are the main functions of the Public Relations Office. Assisting Mr. Holmes in this work are Mr. Jack Hols, Publications Assistant; Miss Isabel Myers, Information Assistant; and Mr. George Wine, Sports Information Assistant. Miss Myers and Mr. Wine release news daily to newspapers, radio, and television. Mr. Hols is in charge of the College Publications Service where all official college publications such as catalogues, leaflets, and bulletins are prepared.

CURRICULUM LAB REFLECTS TREND IN NATION'S SCHOOLS

The Curriculum Laboratory houses both the Curriculum Center and the Audio-Visual Center. The Curriculum Center reflects what is happening in schools throughout the nation by means of such instructional materials as courses of study, resource units, standardized tests, child accounting forms and textbooks for high school and elementary classifications. The Audio-Visual Center provides such material as films, film strips, recordings, and equipment for use in college instruction. Personnel of the Curriculum Laboratory provide consultative service to the campus and to schools of the state.

ART DEPARTMENT EXPANDS COLLECTION

Among the activities marking an eventful year for the Art Department was participation in several traveling art exhibits where many TC students and faculty members won special awards for their creations. The permanent collection was expanded by donations of several works of art. This summer the Art Department is looking forward to the expansion of the A and I Building. Under the sponsorship of the Art Department are Kappa Pi, honor organization and the Art Club. Kappa Pi not only strives to recognize professional ability and promote interest in art, but also works with other colleges in the study of art.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT PROVIDES FIELD SERVICES

The Business Education Department, under the direction of Dr. Lloyd Douglas, is concerned chiefly with the preparation of business teachers; this includes teachers for both the office occupations and the store occupations. ISTC is the official teacher training institution for Iowa in preparing distributive education teacher-coordinators. This department provides field service to Iowa communities in the form of short courses in distributive education. Its basic philosophy is that in order to be a business teacher, one must first be prepared as a highly competent business worker.

EDUCATION OFFERS NEW MAJORS

The Department of Education and Psychology, under the direction of Dr. Clifford Bishop, added three new majors on the masters level and a Specialist Degree in Education. The new majors include the Gifted Child, the Retarded Child, and Remedial Reading . . . The Elementary Education Conference, the Elementary Leaders Conference and the Safety Education Conference were among the highlights of the year. Kappa Delta Pi, Kappa Pi Beta Alpha, Beta Alpha Epsilon, Iowa Student Education Association and Elementa Ki are sponsored by the department.

HOME EC DEPARTMENT HAS HIGH SCHOOL DAY

Highlighting improvements in the Home Economics Department was the completion of viewing booths for the study of children. A larger room was also provided for study and social activities. The department sponsored a High School Home Economics Day in the spring at which work of the department was presented by skits and exhibits. Summer activities include participation in a series of co-operative workshops on Communications in Home Economics.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT USES PRACTICAL APPROACH

The goal of the Industrial Arts Department is to provide education through practical experience in metal work, radio construction, wood-working, architectural drawing, machine shop practice, and auto construction. In January and in May, student exhibits were held. This fall, the department completed providing the wood shop with new benches. Under control of the department is a short-wave radio station which is used for electronics instruction and for hobby purposes by licensed students. Several coffee hours were held by the Industrial Arts Club and the Majors' Wives Club.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE LAB ADDED BY DEPARTMENT OF LANGUAGE, SPEECH AND LITERATURE

Highlighting the year for the Department of Languages, Speech, and Literature was the addition of a new, electronic foreign language laboratory which includes thirty student units and a control center. Tapes of ten different languages will eventually be offered. According to Dr. H. W. Reninger, head of the department, "The equipment has the attraction of enabling each student to progress according to his particular desire and ability." Rounding out the busy year was the sponsorship of College Players, the Speech Club, and the English Club.

NEW IMPROVEMENTS IN THE LIBRARY

Under the general heading of "library" come two distinct departments—the library itself and the Department of Library Science which is located in the same building. This year many new improvements have been made in the library. Several new rooms—a micro-text room containing microfilm and microcard readers and typing facilities, a newspaper lounge, and a new library science class room were added. Alpha Beta Alpha, interest organization for majors or minors in library science, is under the sponsorship of the department.

MATH DEPARTMENT PLANS NEW CONTENT

The mathematics department is growing. New faces are those of Mr. John Bruha, Miss Ruth Erckmann, and Mr. Robert Yount. In addition, this growth is attributed to the fact that undergraduates are studying more math to prepare to teach new content. Teachers in Iowa schools are asking help as they endeavor to meet the challenge of rising standards in mathematics. National associations with many special committees call upon ISTC for both leadership and research. Kappa Mu Epsilon and the Mathematics Club have felt the impact of this increased activity as visiting mathematicians have brought to them the story of current growth in the branches of mathematics.

CONSTRUCTION STARTED ON MUSIC BUILDING

"The Messiah," two operas, marching band, concert band, A Cappella choir, instrumental ensembles, college chorus . . . these were some of the projects and activities that constituted a busy year for the Music Department. Phi Mu Alpha, music fraternity for men, was host to the Convention for Province No. 6 of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia. The department also sponsored Sigma Alpha Iota, fraternity for women, and Music Educators National Conference, a professional organization. Construction of the new $1,000,000 music building began in March.

MEN'S PE DEPARTMENT TRAINS COACHES

Mr. L. L. Mendenhall has stated that the main purpose of the Men's Physical Education Department is to train coaches and physical education instructors. The department also provides facilities for physical activities to all men students through an extensive program of intramural and inter-school athletics. In charge of the intramural program this year is Stan Sheriff, assistant football coach. A new addition to the staff this year is Clarence Carney. The department sponsors the "I" Club, Invitational Wrestling Tournament, Holiday Basketball Tournament, and ISTC Relays, in addition to all varsity teams.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT CONTINUES ACADEMIC YEAR INSTITUTE

Under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation, the Science Department continued the Academic Year Institute which brought together fifty experienced teachers for graduate study in science and math. The department sponsored also the Seventh Annual Science Fair and the Summer Institute for junior high math and science teachers. Dr. Verlin Lee broadcast a weekly TV program, "Let's Explore Science," over WOI-TV at Ames. Joining the staff were Mr. Bernard Glausen, biology instructor, and Mr. Peter Skribanowitz, assistant professor of chemistry.

ASIAN PROGRAM BY SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Social Science assists the future citizen, the future and present teacher through conventional programs. It also attempts to broaden their horizons through special programs and study tours. During the summer of 1960, an Asian program will be provided and a social studies workshop will be undertaken in co-operation with the Department of Teaching. The department also sponsors Pi Gamma Mu and joins with other departments in supporting the All-College Conference on International Affairs. Future plans of the department entail the inclusion of the area of geography in the Department of Social Science.

TEACHING DEPARTMENT HAS EIGHT STUDENT TEACHING CENTERS

The Teaching Department is under the direction of Dr. D. K. Curtis. Included among his various responsibilities is the duty of arranging student teacher schedules. An electronics seminar for physical science was again conducted. The Iowa Braille and Sight Saving School at Vinton, last to be added to ISTC's list of student teaching centers, attracted many student teachers. Opportunities were offered at the Campus School, Waterloo, Independence, Charles City, Mason City, Newton, Vinton, and Fort Dodge.

Each year one per cent of the student body is chosen to receive Purple Key recognition, the epitome of success, the highest award a student can receive at Iowa State Teachers College. This fraternity recognizes students who have shown excellence and sincerity in scholarship. All students eligible for Purple Key must be at least a first-semester senior with a cumulative grade point of 2.6 or more. The students chosen were honored at the All-College Honors Convocation in the spring. Since 1952, Purple Key has replaced "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." AWS REPRESENTS ALL TC WOMEN

AWS, a national organization with a chapter at TC, represents all women students on campus. It is composed of an executive council, a community council, an inter-residence council, and housing unit governments. New additions to the executive body this year were a publicity chairman and a publications chairman. To promote intellectual growth the AWS sponsored two "Thinks" this year at which problems confronting college women were discussed. Steps forward were taken by revising the constitution and by placing more emphasis on Women's Day. Women's Day gave AWS the opportunity to be hostess to the Board of Regents and to recognize all women faculty members. A social highlight was the Femmes' Fancy and Women Pay All Week.

MU SPONSORS BEARD CONTEST

The Men's Union, an organization of all men students on campus, works to enlarge the opportunities for men to develop in all phases of life at college. Highlights in the program of the organization this year included orientation of new students, the annual style show co-sponsored with AWS, and men's intramurals. An event which was initiated this year was Men's Union Day which featured relay competition between houses and a beard-growing contest. MU also sponsors a Hall of Scholarship with membership based on a 3.3 grade point for freshmen, a 3.4 for sophomores, and a 3.5 for juniors and seniors. Another sponsored group is the Hall of Recognition for which men must have a 2.5 average and be active in extracurricular activities on campus.

OFF-CAMPUS STUDENTS STRIVE TO MAKE COLLEGE MORE MEANINGFUL

Off-Campus Women, Cedar Falls Men, and Waterloo Men . . . these organizations represent all off-campus students in student government. Their goal this year has been to promote an awareness among off-campus students of college activities and to serve as a coordinating body with the on-campus students. In the fall these off-campus organizations provided orientation for new students in the Cedar Falls-Waterloo area.

BARTLETT HOUSES FRESHMAN WOMEN

This year Bartlett Hall, TC's oldest residence hall, housed approximately 400 freshman women and 46 counselors. During the year the girls had social hours, residence hall dinners, pajama parties, and exchanges with the men's dormitories. Highlights in the area of social service were the annual Children's Theater party, entertaining at the Black Hawk County Home, visiting an orphans' home, an Easter party for children, and collecting toys and clothing for the Salvation Army. Counselors headed the governmental units until the freshmen elected their own officers for the second semester. House council was composed of chairmen from each corridor. The highest unit of organization was the executive council . . . four executive officers and seven committee chairmen.

LAWTHER HOUSES OVERFLOW

Lawther Hall, traditionally a dorm for sophomore women, housed approximately 400 girls this year. Due to overcrowded conditions about one-fourth of these girls were juniors. Major activities socially were the residence hall dinners, pajama parties, and coffee hours. In the area of social service the girls prepared baskets for the needy at Thanksgiving, went caroling at Christmas, and gave a puppet show for handicapped children. One of the most attractive additions in Lawther was the automatic washers and dryers that made an appearance early in the year. The television room, spread room, recreation room, and the closeness of the sunbathing court combined to produce comfortable living for Lawther girls.

CAMPBELL . . . HOME OF JUNIOR AND SENIOR WOMEN

Campbell, the hall of gracious living, was dedicated in 1954 to Mrs. Sadie B. Campbell, former Dean of Women at Iowa State Teachers College. Each girl's room is equipped with a telephone which is unique for a dorm on this campus. Automatic washers and driers and numerous kitchenettes are also featured in this junior and senior dorm. Dinners for Dad's Day, Homecoming, Christmas, and Mother's Day are among the special activities in Campbell. Informal life is rounded out with dorm snacks, coffee hours, and bridge and dorm parties.

STADIUM HOUSES FRESHMEN

The Stadium Hall government centers around four activities which residents of this hall would not normally gain from classes. They are social life, recreation, scholastic encouragement, and rules and regulations. The two houses in Stadium are Gear and Sherman. The hall has two head residents and two personnel assistants, along with Donald Moody, resident advisor. They are on hand to advise the men to make their first year in college a success.

SEERLEY-BAKER . . . NINE HOUSES

Seerley-Baker Hall, which houses 480 men, is divided into nine houses, each named after a former governor of Iowa. Each house has a head resident and a separate governing body. All of the houses within the dorm are brought together through the AMRH Senate. Director of the Hall was Richard Burns and Jack Thoen was the assistant director. Dormitory facilities included two recreation rooms, two television lounges, three lounges and clothes washing and drying facilities.

CHAPEL CHOIR GIVES PLEASURE AND STIMULATION

To exemplify different periods of music, to give pleasure and stimulation, and to give their audience a challenge to become interested in music are the purposes of the Chapel Choir. The Choir sings for the weekly Chapel Service at the College Interdenominational Church Service, and provides music for Baccalaureate. Miss Jane Mauck is director of the Choir and Miss Shirley Usher is organist. Dr. David Bluhm officiated at the Sunday church services. One credit is received for a year of participation in the Choir and any student who is interested in music may join Chapel Choir.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR TOURS NORTHEAST IOWA

A Cappella Choir consists of selected men and women who show special interest and outstanding ability in choral music. The Choir makes its first appearance at the traditional tree lighting ceremony, December 8. They also joined the Women's Chorus to present Handel's "The Messiah." Under the direction of Charles Matheson, the Choir presented concerts in late February and early in March at Cresco, Luther College, Monona, Fayette, Tripoli, Sumner, Garnavillo, Wapsie Valley School, and Elkader. Climaxing the tour was the homecoming concert, and they ended a successful season with an appearance at the Honors Convocation.

OLD GOLD RESULT OF YEAR LONG EFFORT

Efforts put forth all year long in writing copy, proofreading, and typing combined to produce success in the 1960 OLD GOLD. Addition of the Royalty and Popularity Section, featuring campus kings and queens, and five color pictures contributed to make a unique yearbook. While typists grew dizzy from the hum of the flying keys, proofreaders became bleary-eyed over copy, and copy writers dug deep to come up with new ideas . . . the foremost thought was to meet that monthly deadline. OLD GOLD yearbook sales were climaxed by the annual OLD GOLD Week which highlighted popularity and beauty contests. A display at the crossroads and a special bulletin sent to all on-campus students helped create interest in this event.

COLLEGE EYE INFORMS CAMPUS

Getting the news, typing, copyreading, rewriting, proofreading, and making up the pages . . . these things happen behind the scenes each week as the EYE staff prepares to meet the Thursday deadline at the print shop. The result of the staff's combined efforts comes out each Friday morning in the form of a six-page paper which serves to keep students at Iowa State Teachers College informed of the latest campus news. The advertisements also help in keeping the students up to date . . . where, what, and when to buy. The financing of the printing is partially taken care of through these ads. Much of the credit for a well-coordinated staff goes to the editor, the managing editor, and the advisor.

Editor, Jim Daman, measures the length of a story just handed in to him.

VARIETY KEYNOTES KYTC

The word around the KYTC studios this year was "Variety." This was the fifth anniversary and a special presentation was given for the occasion. A fifteen minute spotlight show was done from the Commons' Social Center each week, informing ISTC students of the week's events. Campus organizations sponsored programs giving students an insight into the organization's purpose and activities . . . KYTC continued to broadcast sports and social events, and again the Humanities marathon was presented for the benefit of those enrolled in the course.

Station Manager, Gary Clark, makes a change in the schedule.

Norma Harmon, Continuity Director, types up the broadcasting schedule.

Myrna Pierce and Mary White are shown during their weekly program.

To keep ISTC students entertained, KYTC selects its music from a record library of 1,950 volumes composed of single and long play albums. This record library is kept up to date with constant additions of new albums. The station manager, the program director, the continuity manager, and the chief engineer are responsible for making KYTC the successful station that it is. Work at KYTC is done entirely by students under the supervision of their advisor, Mr. Herbert Hake.

Jerry Easter gives a station break.

Repairing the broadcasting equipment is the work of Chief Engineer, Ken Bridges.

Bonnie Duggan files records.

Answering the phone is one of the jobs of Judy Molle.

THETA THETA EPSILON UTILIZES LEARNING

THETA THETA EPSILON is the honorary home economics organization on campus. All junior and senior women are eligible for membership if they have a 2.8 average in home economics work and a 2.5 average in all other college work. The women must be members and have active participation in the Ellen Richards Club, the home economics interest organization. Dr. Elisabeth Howes sponsored the organization. The purpose of Theta Theta Epsilon is to provide interest in the field of home economics, promote scholarship and encourage leadership. During the spring they help with the Senior Home Economics Dinner honoring all senior home economics majors. Members also serve as official hostesses at all social functions in the Home Economics Department. The officers were Judy Boll, president; Kathy Riha, vice-president; Mildred Bistricky, secretary-treasurer; and Martha Potts, alumni secretary.

TOMAHAWK HAS FIRST YEAR ON CAMPUS

Organizing for their first year on campus was the task of the Tomahawks with the help of Mr. Richard Burns, the group's sponsor. Forming a constitution, attending workshops at I.S.U., traveling to the national convention at Purdue . . . these were the leading activities for this first year. Membership in this service-honorary is determined by leadership and participation in student government and campus activities. Ushering at Chapel services, caroling for nursing homes and baby-sitting for Sunset Villagers during the spring dance have been other activities this year.

CHICAGO TRIP HIGHLIGHT OF ART CLUB YEAR

Providing pleasure and relaxation through creative activity is the objective of the Art Club. A fabulous trip to Chicago for the Gauguin show, a Halloween "visit" with the instructors and their families, helping to decorate the Commons for Christmas are all part of the memories. A Beaux Arts Ball and a creative film and tape recording were also part of the activities for this year. Mr. Ralph Haskell is the group's sponsor.

CAMPUS 4-H BRINGS STUDENTS CLOSER TOGETHER

Bringing students on the campus closer together and better acquainting them with one another, promoting interest in campus activities, creating interest in members of their local county clubs, interesting students in T.C. . . . these are some of the goals of Campus 4-H. Parties, two weekend camp-outs with the Ames 4-H to further the theme for this year, "Appreciation of Iowa," and student speakers who have attended national conventions, are a few of the projects engaged in by the club to further their goals. Through panel discussions and group discussions knowledge in the field of 4-H is acquired. Any ISTC student is eligible for membership. The faculty sponsor was Miss Olive Holliday.

ELLEN H. RICHARDS CLUB SPONSORS "MITTEN TREE"

Throughout the school year Ellen H. Richards Club works to bring those interested in Home Economics into closer contact with the field by such programs as "The Values of Home Economics," "Home Economics in Other Countries," and panel discussions on "Problems of Teaching Home Economics." Picnics, Christmas parties, and workshops provide the members with relaxation and social opportunities. A contribution to welfare . . . this was the "Mitten Tree" sponsored to help the underprivileged. The Ellen H. Richards members are given an opportunity each year to take part in the state and national Home Economics Association by attending State Day with other college clubs throughout Iowa and by attending Province Home Economics Club meetings for members throughout the nation.

HAWAIIAN CLUB OFFICIALLY RECOGNIZED

Picnics, parties, visits to faculty homes, and the annual All-College Hawaiian Show in the Spring . . . these were some of the events that the Club participated in. The All-College Hawaiian Show brought Hawaii's "Aloha" to Iowa, and added Iowa's friendliness to the Paradise of the Pacific making this a memorable experience for the members of the Club. Making the final break from their traditionally accepted status, the Club adopted a constitution, and following the procedures outlined by the Organization Committee of Student League Board, received official recognition as an organization of the T.C. campus. The Hawaiians, with their colorful aloha shirts and gay muumuus, have brought a meaningful part of the 50th state to this campus.

KPBA SENDS ALUMNI NEWSLETTER

A variety of programs which looked to personal growth as well as advancement as future teachers . . . these were the goals of Kappa Pi Beta Alpha, the professional fraternity for junior and senior women in kindergarten-primary education. These programs included flower arrangements, buzz sessions on different aspects of teaching, the latest in children's books, information on overseas teaching, and how to make china and silverware selections. One important project of KPBA is their alumni newsletter which tells of their activities during the year . . . annual Christmas dessert party, Valentine's Day Party, Mother's Day Luncheon, and Graduation Dinner. Sponsors for the group were Miss Mildred Pray and Miss Virginia Schnepf.

KI PRIMA KI HEARS OF EUROPEAN SCHOOLS

A freshman and sophomore professional and social organization for lower elementary majors . . . this is Ki Prima Ki. As part of the year's program, the members were fortunate in having Mr. John Harold, superintendent of Cedar Falls Schools, share the experiences he had in the European schools. Fall projects included stuffed toys and tray favors taken to the Children's Ward and Old People's Home at the Allen Memorial Hospital, and singing Christmas carols to the patients. Student teaching experiences, talks on the characteristics of a youth school library, showing of an educational film, and a Mother's Day Luncheon were other aspects of the program to further the girls in the teaching profession. Sponsor of the organization was Dr. Margaret Buswell.

PEP COUNCIL PROMOTES CAMPUS SPIRIT

To create and promote campus spirit in athletics and other campus activities is the purpose of pep council. Homecoming is by far the busiest time of the year . . . pep rallies are organized and homecoming buttons are sold to bolster the treasury and school spirit. On October 2 the pep council promoted a successful migration to Des Moines for the Drake game . . . March 12 there was a migration to Cornell for a wrestling meet. Migrations are led by the cheerleaders. Miss Mardelle Mohn of the Women's Physical Education Department was the sponsor this past year.

PHI BETA LAMBDA SPONSORS CONVENTION

A fall workshop, Homecoming Tea, Christmas Party, and the State Convention for Iowa High School FBLA clubs were sponsored by Phi Beta Lambda, formerly known as Future Business Leaders of America. This group is an interest organization for all business majors and minors which emphasizes the latest developments in business and business education. Last spring the organization was reorganized and renamed under a new constitution to better facilitate all areas of the Business Department.

SISEA HAS LARGEST CHAPTER IN THE NATION

Jesse Stuart once wrote, "The teacher has the greatest profession, for through his hands pass all members of every profession." It is upon such a truth as this that the Student Iowa State Education Association is founded. This organization offers to students the opportunity to be professionally minded during their preparation for the "greatest profession." Student ISEA strives to enlighten its members as to the framework and the activities of the local, state, and national education associations. This year the local chapter is recognized as the largest chapter in the nation, having over six hundred members. It is strongly hoped that as the years continue, even more of those who choose to enter the profession of education will recognize the importance and the opportunities presented by the Student ISEA. This year, Student ISEA is proud to have invited nationally known Roswell Garst to be a guest on the campus.

WOMEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLUB HAS SENIOR BANQUET

The Women's Physical Education Club strives to interest all students in many activities presented each year by the Physical Education Department. Carrying out their motto, "Purposeful Action," was accomplished by the sophomore initiation picnic, a freshman get-acquainted party, swimming playnight, volleyball night and the Senior Banquet. The club and their sponsor, Dr. Bontz, also revised the constitution of the organization.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLUB—Row 1: M. Jansen, G. Gruber, C. Boesen, K. Galloway, V. Tagesen, S. Strobridge, J. Hulet, P. White, J. King, P. Napier. Row 2: G. Pedersen, J. Paynter, B. Phipps, J. WRA PROVIDES INTRAMURAL PROGRAM

The Women's Recreation Association offers to the women of Iowa State Teachers College the best use of all the recreational facilities at their service. WRA provides the following intramurals . . . basketball, volleyball, softball, archery, tennis, hockey, golf, badminton, trampoline. All college playnights are sponsored by this organization. TC is the president school for the district and state Women's Recreational Association, and was host to the convention this year. Working with Men's Union on their first Men's Union Day was one of the special events of this year.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS ENCOURAGE ACTIVITIES IN PARTY

College Young Republicans, established in the spring of 1956 on campus, is open to all students who are interested in the Republican Party. Young Republicans interest students in the Republican Party and provide an opportunity for them to find a place for political expression and recognition. To foster and encourage the activities of the Party, to promote its ideals, and to collect, analyze, discuss and disseminate information concerning political affairs . . . these are the purposes of the club and are carried out with the help of the sponsors, Dr. George Robinson, and the officers.

RELIGION . . .

S.C.R.A. SPONSORS FIRST ANNUAL CONFERENCE ON RELIGION

The Student Council of Religious Activities serves the college with a program of activities designed to promote joint participation of all the individual student centers on a campus-wide basis. The Council is made up of one delegate from each of the student centers and religious organizations on campus with three officers and two members elected at large. Activities, such as sponsoring the First Annual Conference on Religion, a fall leadership workshop, and an all-college convocation based on a theme of religion and education, are examples of the work SCRA promotes. Other activities enjoyed by the campus as a whole are student-led Chapel services and the annual Christmas tree lighting ceremony. These varied activities serve to enlarge and promote religious thinking among the students participating in them.

Sunday evening primary discussion groups and Wednesday night vespers held at the Baptist Student Center every week are aimed at helping each member of the Fellowship develop a Christian philosophy. During these periods, any topic of religious interest to the students may be discussed. Friday evenings the student center is open and available for recreation activity and of the student members and their friends. A sincere interest in the group and plenty of enthusiasm for its activities are traits displayed by all the members who have participated in ice skating and sledding parties, hay rides, and the various other parties given by the Roger Williams Fellowship.

THETA EPSILON HEARS ABOUT LIFE IN GERMANY

Theta Epsilon is a study and service organization that seeks to provide its members with opportunities to gain in leadership and fellowship. Working jointly with the members of the Baptist Student Center, these young women carry out activities ranging from baby-sitting with children during church services to sponsoring an Easter Musicale. The bi-monthly meetings proved to be time well spent. The program of one of these meetings included Barb Lang's talk on her summer in Germany. Another featured pottery lessons as the theme. In this way, Theta Epsilon sponsors a program fitted to their age and interest group.

NEWMAN CLUB—Row 1: Michael F. O'Brien, Joan Byam, Mary Eileen Cooney, Kay Kernan, Linda Lenz, Colleen Kelley, Mary Ellen Comfort, Judy Logan, Sherryll White, Marilyn Seiler, Tom Crane. NEWMANITES DELVE INTO LITURGY STUDY

After starting the year off at such an enthusiastic pace the members of the Newman Club kept busy at all their activities such as the annual migration picnic to Pike's Peak State Park at McGregor . . . The Iowa-Notre Dame football game at Iowa City . . . the fall dinner-dance . . . the Sunday afternoon picnics out by the river. The Newmanites do not neglect their education either, with classes on the Liturgy of the Mass and classes on the theme of marriage and the family. And so the year flew . . . visiting art centers . . . monasteries . . . making spiritual retreats. Chaplain for the group is Father John Gregory.

CHRISTIAN STUDENT CENTER WORKS TOWARD GREATER FELLOWSHIP

Working toward a closer Christian fellowship was the main goal of the Christian Fellowship. The year started with a freshman welcoming party and continued throughout the year with such events as the Christmas Banquet, the Sweetheart Party in February, and the annual spring planning retreat. The group had many service projects to further the group's fellowship. These projects included selling Christmas cards, ushering at the Cedar Falls Christian Church, caroling at the various convalescent homes, and babysitting. Mrs. Daley Walker, the director of the Christian Student Center, always insures a welcome for all who wish to come.

CANTERBURY ASSOCIATION STUDIES BIBLE

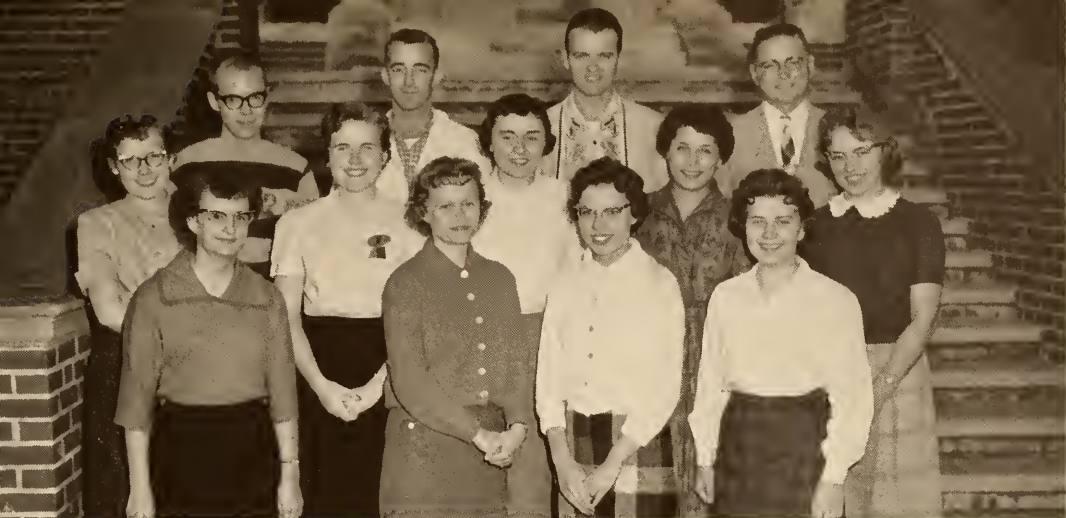

Remembering the fun had by all at the fall and spring picnics . . . the thoughts passed on by the sister who was sent from a convent in Wisconsin to speak to the group . . . thus the Canterbury Association recalls the good times they had as they worshipped and played together. A retreat in the latter part of November . . . caroling during the Christmas season . . . the trip to Coe College . . . studying the most misinterpreted passages in the Bible . . . and having several parties were only a few of the many other activities that members of the Canterbury Association participated in during the past year.

REORGANIZATION WAS GOAL OF E.U.B.

Reorganization was the goal of the Evangelical United Brethren Student Fellowship for the year. The group has been meeting for several years, but this year they rewrote their constitution and asked the Student League Board for recognition. The members were active in the Cedar Falls Evangelical United Brethren Church. They sang in the church choir and attended the church services. During the Christmas season, they painted a Christmas scene on a window in the downtown Cedar Falls business district and went caroling. Hayrides highlighted the fall and the group ended the year with a delicious steak fry in the spring. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hahn, counselors, helped the group to make the year an eventful one.

USF PROMOTES THREE-FOLD PROGRAM

The United Student Fellowship and Sigma Eta Chi, Congregational sorority, work together in promoting religious thinking among the students attending college. Fall and spring retreats, a monthly newsletter, group discussions and outside speakers give the members a spiritual program which is supplemented by the intellectual. Here the social, spiritual and intellectual programs come together with a unified student center as the end result.

SIGMA ETA CHI—Row 1: Lois Sawtell, Kay Blankenship, Jeanne Kanemitsy, Janice Kerkman. Row 2: Muriel Naito, Helen Mangold, Audrey Stumbaugh, Marlene Price, Carol Morris, Ruth Kimura. INTER-VARSITY HOLDS WEEKLY DORM DISCUSSIONS

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship is a student organization on campus which is interdenominational in character. It seeks to investigate the claims of Jesus Christ and to consider His challenge to today's college students. Inter-Varsity is a member of an international student movement among Christians, the International Fellowship of Evangelical Students. It seeks to promote spiritual thought through daily prayer meetings, fall and spring retreats, a Bible worship retreat and weekly dorm discussions. Social life is not neglected as this group holds an annual banquet as well as other miscellaneous social events.

L.S.A. FOLLOWS A FIVE POINT PLAN

The Lutheran Student Center program, planned and carried out by and for the students, sought to help the Christian student relate his faith to campus life as a whole. Students followed a plan which had five main points: worship, study, service, evangelism, and recreation. Aimed at promoting a fellowship within the group which helped the members grow in the understanding of the Lutheran faith, the LSA program was necessarily varied. LSA had a program of regular Thursday evening vespers with the belief that a faith has more meaning when based on reason and intelligent understanding of religion.

GAMMA DELTANS STRIVE FOR KNOWLEDGE AND SERVICE

The Gamma Deltans of the Missouri Synod Lutheran Church are keeping busy with a full schedule of such things as selling student center note cards . . . public car washes . . . picnics and banquets. During the year members carried out the guiding word of their organization "knowledge and service" by holding a Christmas party for the Cedar Falls Lutheran Home, Christmas caroling, and a sleigh riding party. Other activities included Wednesday morning matins . . . Sunday supper programs . . . vespers . . . choir . . . and discussion groups. Pastor Edgar Brammer is sponsor of the group.

WESLEY SPONSORS AN OVERSEAS CHILD

A fall and a spring retreat . . . a week end camp for discussion and worship . . . these were found in the Wesley program for the past year. Counseled by Rev. Spaine, Wesley had an open house on Friday evening complete with recreation. A Halloween party provided a break from the class rooms as well. Sunday evening meetings and lectures are a familiar part of Wesley as well as the discussion groups and worship services in which all may take part. Kappa Phi, the Wesley-an Service Sorority sponsored by Miss Barbara Smith, enjoyed the proverbial Yule Log at Christmas. Sponsoring an overseas child and donating to the national chapter were some of the service projects of Kappa Phi. Ushering at the Interdenominational Chapel in the spring and ushering at Wesley every Sunday were two projects undertaken by the Sig Thets. The Wesleyan Service Fraternity is sponsored by Rev. Spain and Mr. Crumley.

PRESBYTERIANS MIGRATE TO ATHENS, OHIO

The Eighteenth Quadrennial Conference on Christian World Missions held in Athens, Ohio was attended by several members of the Presbyterian Student Center. This conference, held during the Christmas vacation, enriched the lives of those attending, both spiritually and intellectually. In discussion groups at the conference, students were made aware of the responsibilities of the Christian faith and how each person must face this life and its struggles for himself. On the campus the members continue working to broaden their interpretations of Christianity through summer work camps, study trips, spiritual retreats, lecture programs, art shows and parties. Study programs, open to all who are interested, were developed on the Protestant philosophy of education and Calvin.

PHI CHI DELTA SOUGHT TO GAIN LEADERSHIP

Phi Chi Delta, the Presbyterian girls' service sorority, is a study and service organization that sought to provide its members with opportunities to gain leadership and to share in fun and fellowship with other young women. Meeting in conjunction with the Presbyterian Student Center, these girls included such service projects as ushering at the Interdenominational Chapel and sponsoring and supervising the annual Christmas Chocolate held at the Presbyterian Student Center. Under the guidance of Mrs. Dick Nelson the students worked together, studied together, and enjoyed the benefits of their Christian life together.

DELTA DELTA PHI CO-SPONSORS WINNING HOMECOMING FLOAT

Promoting stronger bonds of friendship, providing opportunities for social experience and helping each member become a finer woman through poise, sane judgment, good taste and unfailing courtesy . . . these were the goals of the Delta Delta Phi sorority. The Delts strive to develop these qualities through their many activities during the year. Throughout the year the sorority took part in various service projects, such as reclaiming a home for exceptional children and singing in homes for the aged. The highlight of the fall activities was winning first place in the homecoming parade with the float "Proud as a Peacock," which the Delts and their brother fraternity, Alpha Chi Epsilon, entered. The formal dinner-dance "Sea Fantasy," formal initiation and the traditional Mother's Day Tea brought another memorable year to a close for the Delts, under the leadership of Carol Lester, president; Kay Byers, vice-president; Kay Hasselbusch, treasurer; Sue Gabrielson, secretary; and Dr. and Mrs. George Poage as sponsors.

SWEETHEART DINNER AND DANCE HIGHLIGHTS KAPPA YEAR

The Kappa Theta Psi sorority highlighted their social year with their annual Sweetheart Dinner and Dance. The Homecoming Alumni Tea, Secret Sister Week, Mother's Day Tea and graduation Dinner are other traditional events which the Kappas hold. These along with service projects, popcorn parties, and coke dates, help to carry out their goal, "To develop through its members strongly knit friendships and to strive to promote on the campus better relationships both socially and scholastically." Acting in the official capacities of the sorority this past year were Norma Larkin, president; Jean Ann Eide, vice-president; Sharron Strayer, recording secretary; Jo Wilson, treasurer; and Dr. and Mrs. Clifford McCollum, Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Phillips, and Miss Marilyn Schlemmer as advisors.

NU SIGMA PHI IS OLDEST CAMPUS SORORITY

The oldest social sorority existing on the TC campus at the present time is the Nu Sigma Phi sorority. They were founded in 1896 and had as their motto, "In union there is strength." Through the years this group has proven the significance of their motto to the campus community by joining together in activities which enrich the lives of the members while at the same time serve others. An action that displayed this Nu Sig spirit was the Christmas decoration of the tree and lobby of the Sartori Memorial Hospital which brought the joy of the season to the patients. For the sixth consecutive year the Nu Sigs have been honored by receiving the Inter-Sorority Scholarship Plaque. This award is given to the sorority with the highest grade point for the semester. Social events such as coke dates, picnics, dinners, and caroling are included as essential elements in the Nu Sig program. Dr. and Mrs. Manford Sonstegard, Mrs. Howard Jones, and Miss Eleanor Merritt were sponsors while Donna Daudel was president; Lois Harker, vice-president; Anne Shafer, secretary; and Doreen Hasenwinkel, treasurer.

PHI SIGMA PHI EMPHASIZES SOCIAL GRACES

"We build for character and not for fame" . . . this the motto of the Phi Sigma Phi sorority is a foundation which provides an opportunity for each member to make close and lasting friendships from her affiliation with the sorority. Rose Ann Sadler, president; Tanya Petersen, vice-president; Shelby Holmes, secretary; and Vicky Gibson, treasurer; officiated the Phi Sig's activities with the help of sponsors Dr. and Mrs. Middleton, Dr. Ball, Miss Shurrer, and Miss Sholander. The goal for this year was to provide an opportunity for girls to develop both socially and scholastically. With this goal in mind the group has placed special emphasis on social graces in activities such as the Homecoming Tea, Christmas Party, coke dates, Mother's Day Luncheon and the Graduate Dinner. They also made scholarship awards to outstanding individuals during the year to carry out their goal. Along with service projects and activities with their brother fraternity Phi Sigma Epsilon, the outstanding event was the Annual Spring Dinner Dance.

INDIVIDUAL PI TAUS HONORED

The alums of Pi Tau Phi sorority have shown considerable interest in the active chapter this past year by setting up a fund from which is to be purchased a bracelet . . . an award to the "Pi Tau of the Year," who is a graduating senior. They also gave the sorority a scholarship medal which is an effort to stimulate better scholarship. The scholarship medal is a "traveling award," going to the girl having the highest grade point for that semester. The Pi Taus honor the alumnae who return for Homecoming Week-end by giving a tea and inviting them as guests. For Dad's Day the girls sponsor a fireside for the Pi Tau Dads and Daughters to become better acquainted. A service project is selected by the sorority at the beginning of the year and carried out as a group. Mrs. Perry Grier and Miss Shirley Posson sponsored the Pi Taus while Lona Nielson served as president; Myrna Sprengeler as vice-president; Donna Lancaster as secretary; and Carol Hendrickson as treasurer.

PI THETA PI CARRY TRADITIONS FORTH

The Pi Theta Pi's schedule this year was filled with activities to strengthen their sisterhood and promote social grace and scholarship. The year began with a coke date with their brother fraternity, Sigma Tau Gamma, and was followed by the sisters and brothers entering together in social events, such as the Christmas party, throughout the year. Two scholarship honors of a necklace and a bracelet were bestowed upon the two pledges with the highest grade points. These traditional awards are passed on from year to year. Advising the Pi Theta Pi sorority this past year were Dr. and Mrs. Richard Crumley, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Melberg, Miss Thelma Short, and Miss Barbara Darling. Traditional events such as the Homecoming Sip for the Alumni, a Mother's Day Brunch, Secret Sister Week, Spring Dinner-Dance, Graduate Dinner, and sending the alumni a newsletter were carried on again this year by the sorority. Carrying forth the Pi Theta Pi traditions were Kay Whitney, president; Ruth Johnstone, vice-president; Connie Peck, secretary; and Marilyn Arthur, treasurer.

TAU SIGS WORK TOGETHER FOR CLOSER FRIENDSHIP

Following their motto of "Friendship and Service," the Tau Sigs enjoyed a year of activities which were planned for the betterment of each of the members. Annual events such as Homecoming Tea, Graduate Dinner, Spring Dinner-Dance, and Mother's Day Luncheon helped to better their social graces and to widen their scope of friendship. The leaders of the sorority, Karen Fairbank, president; Sonia Strobbridge, vice-president; Nancy Maginnis, secretary; and Diane Darnall, treasurer carried the ideals of Tau Sigma Delta through the year. In fulfilling their goal, "To bring members close together by working together," the Tau Sigs had several money-making projects, such as the bake sale, which is an effort to raise money for the scholarship fund. This fund is used toward the annual Tau Sig Scholarship which is awarded to a girl on campus who is deserving of financial aid. Sponsoring the sorority this past year were Dr. and Mrs. William Dee, Dr. Elaine McDavitt, and Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Talbott.

THETA GAMMA NU PAINTS FOR CAMP AS SERVICE

The Theta Gamma Nu sorority witnessed another active year, promoting their goals of friendship, scholarship, and leadership. Sponsoring the traditional activities such as the Homecoming Brunch for Alumni, the Christmas party climaxing Secret Sister Week, the Spring Dinner and Sweetheart Dance, and the party honoring all graduating Thetas, were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paulson, Mr. and Mrs. John Aldrich, and Dr. Elizabeth Howes. Other events included this year were regular overnights, attending chapel services together, parties with other sororities, and the painting of furniture and equipment at a local camp as a service project. Climaxing the Theta year and the official term in office for Marvel Carnes, president; Lucy Evans, vice-president; Sandy Howard, secretary; and Mildred Bistricky, treasurer was the Mother's Day Brunch. At this annual event, the Theta with the highest grade point was honored as was the Outstanding Theta of the year.

MANY FIRSTS FOR CHIS THROUGHOUT YEAR

Beginning an eventful social year for the Chis, was the traditional serenading of the women's dormitories, followed by the Homecoming Dinner, Christmas caroling with their sister sorority Delta Delta Phi, Senior Dinner, Orchid Formal, Nairobi, summer stag, and service projects carried on by each pledge class, as well as by the entire membership. Dean Schwarz, president; Bill Struyk, vice-president; Dick Grove, secretary; and Jim Crowder, treasurer carried forth these traditions of Alpha Chi Epsilon under the sponsorship of Dr. E. J. Cable, Dr. Howard Jones, Dr. Edward Thorne, and Mr. Milo Lawton, the advisors of the fraternity. Stressing the purpose of the fraternity, brotherhood, the members worked as a single unit in winning the Homecoming Inter-Fraternity Sing, in receiving first place, with the Deltas, in the Homecoming Float contest, and by retaining the Scholarship Plaque. An award is made to the outstanding senior at the event which climaxes the Chi year, the Orchid Formal. This honor is made to the Chi contributing the most to the fraternity and to the college during his college year.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON HOLDS WHITE ROSE FORMAL

Their motto "do unto others as you would have them do unto you," serves as the foundation for the Theta chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon. Monte McCuniff, president; John Sullivan, vice-president; Dave Vovos, secretary; and Bob Rice, treasurer led the Phi Sigs through another season of sports and social activities. The most remembered events of the year were the Homecoming dinner held at Waverly and the White Rose Formal which took place in January. The Phi Sigs, being quite active in college athletics, as a group participated in intramurals and won the football championship. Through athletics and student government, recognition was given to a few of the individual members of the group. Sponsoring the Phi Sigs were Mr. William Dee, Mr. Charles Allegre, and Mr. Al Barne.

SIG TAUS SPONSOR CONCLAVE

The Sig Taus in an attempt to keep the alums in closer contact with the activities of the local chapter, established a corporation made up of alumni members. This corporation was just formed last year and seemed to fulfill its purpose of keeping the alums aware of things that the active members were doing. Events taking place during the year were the Homecoming Dinner, Christmas party with their sister sorority, Pi Theta Pi, and coke dates with the other social sororities. Two conclaves played an important part in an eventful year for Sigma Tau Gamma. They attended such a conclave at Menomonie, Wisconsin in the fall, and then sponsored another conclave on this campus in the spring. The year's activities were officiated by Walt Frank, president; Eric Keele, vice-president; Lee Alshouse, secretary; Gordon Hankins, treasurer; and Dr. Harold Bernhard and Dr. James Blanford as sponsors. The year was concluded with the traditional White Rose Formal.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON HAS ACTIVE YEAR

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity carried on many activities throughout the year as they have in the past, including intramural athletics, the annual pheasant feed, the French Underground Party in the fall, activities with their sister sorority, Tau Sigma Delta, national conclave, fall and spring smokers. Sponsoring the events were Mr. Harlan Samson and Mr. Peter Mazula. Officers for the year were Jerry Stilwell, president; Terry Stiffler, vice-president; Gene Hakanson, secretary, and Dave Montgomery, treasurer. In the spring the fraternity held its Red Carnation Ball, one of the more elaborate TKE events.

Although the football team had a season's record of six wins and three losses, the Panthers finished in a tie for fourth place in the North Central Conference. The Tutors were plagued with injuries throughout the season as Duane Bonsall, Max Huffman, Allee Nowden, and Warren Hansen were out of action for at least part of the campaign.

Throughout the year TC mixed a strong running game with an adequate passing attack. On defense, the Panthers held all but two opponents to two touchdowns or less.

Dean Hartman breaks around left end as Jerry Morgan follows the play.

Halfbacks Max Huffman and Allee Nowden provided the speed for the wide sweeps in the TC offense, while fullback Warren Hansen gained yardage through the middle. The two quarterbacks, Jim Damron and Jerry Morgan, each passed for more than 200 yards. Dennis Remmert, who was a standout on both offense and defense, won a berth on the NCC first team. Placed on the second team were end Greg Bice, guard John Sullivan, and fullback Warren Hansen.

Jim Damron makes a desperate effort to block the tackler, but Max Huffman is stopped short at the line of scrimmage.

BASKETBALL

RECORDS FALL FOR CAGERS

The TC basketball team finished the season with their best record in ten years, winning fifteen games and losing eight. After a slow start, the Panthers ended the campaign by winning ten of their last twelve.

Coach Jim Witham's team wrote a couple of new records into the North Central Conference books. Jim Jackson smashed his own conference rebound record by snatching 221, and tied the league's single-game mark of 32. Jackson and his teammates also broke the loop's rebound standard with 771 for the season.

Anxiety of the 1959-60 basketball season is shown in this sea of faces as Mankato State staged a closing rally that almost caught the Panthers.

Center Pete Spoden hits a free throw in the Loras game to thwart DuHawk rebound plans.

The cagers also broke six school records. Jerry Holbrook set the only individual mark by scoring 325 points, which is a record for a sophomore guard. The Panthers' 1758 points, 1409 rebounds, and 679 field goals were all new standards. They also hung up new single-game marks in field goals (42 against Morningside) and rebounds (83 against South Dakota State).

Holbrook led the Tutors in all scoring categories, finishing the season with a 14.1 average. Jim Jackson again led the team in rebounding, grabbing 392.

Jerry Morgan, late season starter, throws in a hook shot against Morningside as Pete Spoden awaits possible rebound.

Front row fans enjoy Dean Jensen's attempt to dribble past Mankato State player as Jerry Holbrook sets up a screen.

Jerry Holbrook's field goal attempt is nullified by foul on Mankato player as Jim Jackson and Bill Noonkesser (40) get position for rebound.

It's a safe bet that TC's ace rebounder Jim Jackson came down with this one against Mankato as Bill Noonkesser (40) and Ed Ware (20) watch the action.

Panthers Bill Herkelman (34), Bill Noonkesser (40) and Mike McBride (44) watch Ed Ware shoot a jump shot from the base line against South Dakota.

Bill Noonkesser appears to have an extra set of hands as he goes after loose ball in Loras game.

INJURIES PLAY IMPORTANT PART IN SEASON

Injuries to key wrestlers played an important part in the outcome of the wrestling season. Before any dual meets had been held, Panther wrestler Don Wilson was lost for the season due to a broken leg. Also injured was LeRoy Kopriva, who missed action at the start of the wrestling campaign. These injuries forced Coach Bill Koll to maneuver his available wrestlers to the weight division where they would do the team the most good. When undefeated Michigan State, a Big Ten wrestling power, came to compete against the Panthers, chances for a favorable outcome appeared slim. However, a team effort by the Panthers provided an upset, a 15-15 tie with the Spartans. In the final match of the ISTC-Mankato State Dual Meet, 165-pound Jerry Rosonke, wrestling at heavy-weight, managed to avoid a pin by 240-pound Bill Blake, giving the Panthers a 15-13 victory.

BASEBALL TEAM HAS 11-3 RECORD

The Panther baseball team went undefeated during the regular conference season, only to lose to South Dakota State 3-2 in the NCC championship game. Good pitching and a tight defense were the keys to the Panthers' success. TC pitchers held opponents to .189 batting average. John Zahn headed the pitching staff, winning five games without a loss and compiling a 1.29 earned run average. He had adequate help from Dave Ray and Kent Folsom, who each won three games. On defense TC had a team fielding average of .945. This defensive strength was of great importance because the Panther batting average was only .228. However, two hitters, catcher Dick Gipple and pitcher-outfielder John Zahn, managed to hit above .300.

The 1959 Panther track team had a highly successful season in both indoor and outdoor meets. TC placed first in the South Half of the North Central Conference Indoor Meet, accumulating 78 points while its nearest competitor, South Dakota, had 32. Conference records were broken in three events by Panther trackmen. Hal Byram and Dennis Corwin are the new record holders in the 440- and 880-yard runs respectively. Jim Duea set the new pole vault record of 13 feet. The indoor team also won the Iowa College Indoor Relays, a meet which saw eight other Iowa colleges competing. In outdoor dual meets the Panthers went undefeated; however, they finished third in the NCC meet at Sioux City. In the 36th annual TC Relays, the Panthers scored victories in five events. At the season's end, Max Huffman led the TC scoring with 107 points, followed by Jim Duea, John States, and Bob Conway.

GOLFERS WIN CONFERENCE CROWN

After winning four dual meets while losing only one, the varsity golf team repeated as the North Central Conference golf champion. In the conference meet, the Panthers were paced by medalist John Weyle, who had a 27-hole total of 114, six over par. Teammate Charles Patten, who led the Panthers during the regular season by winning from four of five competitors, was a stroke back at 115.

TUTOR NETMEN WIN SIX OF SEVEN

The Panther netmen defeated six of the seven opponents they met during the 1959 season, losing only to a strong Iowa State team. Since the North Central Conference tennis tournament was cancelled because of rain, the Tutors were unable to repeat as conference champions. Both Dan Staggs and Bill Lane completed the season undefeated in singles competition, each winning seven matches.

INTRAMURAL PROGRAM EXPANDED

Dave Linder catches a pass . . .

Helping to create a better program for those students not active in varsity sports is the purpose of the men's intramural program. Two new sports, wrestling and volleyball, were added to the ever-growing list of activities. Other competitive sports were football, basketball, tennis, handball, track and field, and softball. The program was under the faculty direction of Stan Sheriff, and supervised by an elected intramural council of six students with Ray Lutz as chairman.

Panther cheerleaders in action . . .

SPIRIT BOLSTERED BY CHEERLEADERS

Unifying the enthusiasm of the student body at the football and basketball games this year were the Panther cheerleaders. Last spring six cheerleaders were chosen, three veterans of the 1958-59 season and three newcomers to college cheerleading. Marilyn Hansen, Sonia Strobebridge, and Roger Meeker from last year's group were joined by Sara Nordly, Marge Teisinger, and Shirley Radeke.

"Perky Panther" says:

Welcome to the I.S.T.C. Alumni Assoc.

AS AN ALUMNUS OF I.S.T.C. THESE SERVICES OF THE COLLEGE MAY HELP YOU.

Placement Service:

The Placement Bureau serves experienced as well as current graduates in obtaining teaching positions.

Extension Service:

Extension classes organized at various cities throughout the state provide opportunity for teachers to earn college credit while continuing their classroom teaching.

The Alumnus:

Published quarterly, THE ALUMNUS magazine is mailed to all graduates of TC. It brings up-to-date information on the college, faculty, and former students.

Alumni Meetings:

TC grads get together for social gatherings at least once a year in all parts of the U.S. One of the largest gatherings is the Coffee Hour at the ISEA Convention. We next meet in the Des Moines Room of the Savery Hotel, Friday, November 4, from 4 to 6 p.m.

You Can Help I.S.T.C. by:

- (1) Doing your very best on your job. (2) Encouraging topnotch students to attend I.S.T.C. (3) Cooperating on Alumni Association projects when called upon. (4) Keeping us posted on your current address and activities — we're interested. (5) Supporting the I.S.T.C. Foundation.

EDITOR'S EPITAPH . . .

Well, it's all over for another year. The book's gone to press and I'm worn out. I won't say that it hasn't been fun, because many times it has. However, I won't say it has been the easiest job I've ever had because it hasn't been that either.

It's been a wonderful year filled with memories of fun and hard work. I don't think that anyone could have put out a book without the excellent help that I have had this year. Without Mike O'Brien's cheery smile and, "Relax, Helen, there must be a way to do this," I would have been in a straight jacket long ago. Mike was our public relations man for the year. Somehow (and I certainly don't know how) he managed to schedule all the group pictures and even managed to have the photographers and the groups at the same place at the same time. Believe me, this is no small feat.

Neither Mike nor I would have gotten to first base with this book, if we hadn't had our advisor, Jack Hols, to set us back on the right path. To Marla Putzier I take off my hat. I'll never know how she juggled the books and handled all the money, but she did a terrific job, and believe it or not the budget still balances. To Birch Robison who did all the artwork and the layouts goes many thanks. I don't know of anyone who suffered more than Birch at the hands of a somewhat uneven tempered, redheaded editor . . . unless it was my staff of photographers. Tom Crane, Fall Photo Editor, and Wayne Tatge, Spring Photo Editor, put in many late hours in the darkroom so that I could have just the right picture just when I needed it. Not to be forgotten is Elaine Pitzenberger, who spent many hours proofreading the copy and then proofreading again to be sure. To Sylvia Geurink, Head of the Index, and Jan Barrett, Head of the Graduate Section, I owe a big thank you. To all the section heads, copy writers, and typists . . . the unsung heroes of the book . . . go many thanks.

So people, this is it. We all hope that you like it. If you do, please help Mike and Marla get out an even better book next year by actually helping on the staff, and most important of all, by supporting the staff when things don't work out just right.
